About Wodonga

---

Wodonga is strategically located about 300km north of Melbourne and 580km south of Sydney on the Hume Freeway. 75 per cent of Australia's population can be reached by next day transport shift.

Combined with Albury, Wodonga is recognised as Australia's 20th largest city, with a population of 90,281 residents. The wider catchment of Wodonga is estimated to be more than 180,000, the strong majority of which is in Wodonga and North East Victoria.

Wodonga is home to a broad range of industries. The top five sectors by employment in Wodonga are:

- Manufacturing;
- Health care and social assistance;
- Public administration and safety;
- Retail trade; and,
- Education and training.

Wodonga has access to a skilled regional labour force in excess of 80,000, with skills based in logistics, warehousing and food manufacturing.

The proximity to the Murray River and Lake Hume provides a strategic advantage of a high level of water security and ample clean water supply.

The city also features high-quality telecommunications and energy infrastructure.
