DELIVERING TODAY,
PLANNING FOR TOMORROW
2016-2017 DRAFT BUDGET - INSIDE
Hello again, my turn to “chat over the back fence” has come around again, and I thank you for taking the time to “listen” to another councillor one more time.

In October last year I talked about our updated sport and recreation plans including master plans for current major sporting hubs, the demands for informal recreational facilities, and plans for our new site at Baranduda Fields.

My views on the importance of council’s role in planning and providing recreation and sporting infrastructure has not changed. In fact, I think the priority is increasing the more time I spend on council.

In the just released draft budget we have brought forward plans to commence development at Baranduda Fields by allocating funds over the next two years to get construction started on Stage 1. These plans have been brought forward by four years from last year’s timetable and have been enabled through the work of council over the past 12 months to fund the remaining CBA development projects with Federal Government grants and internal savings, without additional borrowings.

This budget proposes to get Baranduda Fields under way earlier than planned at this stage last year, by using the planned borrowings no longer needed for our CBA.

In supporting this direction I asked myself the following questions:
Do we need Baranduda Fields?
Most definitely YES. When I moved to Wodonga 30 years ago, the population was 24,600 and Birallee Park was the new sporting ground, on the western outskirts.

Thirty years later our population is nudging 40,000 and Birallee Park is still the younger ground.

Over those years, together with all of our sporting bodies, much has been achieved to maximise the capacity and quality of what we have available.

Today in most of those precincts we are running at or above capacity. I know this because over the two years I have spent many hours trying to find training space for eight new soccer teams, (seven of them juniors), in both Wodonga and Albury.

We need more capacity starting now to support demand and growth to ensure future generations have the facilities they deserve.

Do we need to start now and how do we pay for it?
I mentioned we are at capacity at the majority of our grounds.

With detailed design and planning still needed on the plans, the first excavator would not be on site until the second quarter of 2017.

With a 12-month (minimum) construction time, the first ball kicked, hit or thrown would be the winter season of 2018.

So the current grounds have to last another two to three years before this new capacity is fully operational.

Over those years, together with all of our sporting bodies, much has been achieved to maximise the capacity and quality of what we have available.

I don’t think we can wait any longer to get started.

The 2016-2017 draft budget includes a capital spend of $10 million over the next two years, supported by borrowing of $8 million, and a forecast of 4.25 per cent rate rises over the next four years.

We will continue to actively advocate at both federal and state government levels for the remaining funds needed to complete Stage 1, and minimise the ratepayer’s share of the total cost.

Providing recreational space and facilities to support the health and wellbeing of our current and future generations is a key responsibility of council, and an obligation of the whole community to our future generations.
Grants boost for local sporting clubs

Local sporting clubs are the winners with two Victorian Government grants announced recently. The Raiders’ home ground at Birallee Park will get new change rooms built next to the netball courts after winning a $100,000 grant announced by Member for Northern Victoria Jaclyn Symes (pictured above). The new building will include two unisex player change rooms, an officials’ change room, public and accessible toilets, a storage room and canteen facilities. There are no toilets or change facilities at the netball court, so players have to use the public services on the other side of the ground.

Wodonga Council has contributed $20,000 and the Wodonga Raiders Football and Netball Club $70,000, including in-kind support. The building is due to be completed by winter 2017.

Wodonga Cricket Club’s grounds at Martin Park will also benefit with another grant announced by Ms Symes, this time for $70,000 to replace the cricket nets. Four new nets will replace three 20-year-old practice pitches, and should be in place by the start of the next cricket season. The nets will be fully retractable so the area can also be opened up and used for junior football training during winter.

Wodonga Cricket Club will contribute $30,000, including in-kind support and Wodonga Council will provide $5000. The new nets will mean more schools and the public will be able to use the grounds. The Les Cheesley Oval is used all-year round by sporting, community groups and the public for a range of sporting and leisure activities.

The oval – including the fencing, trees and children’s playground – is regarded as one of the premier cricket grounds in the region and are always well maintained.

Beware abuse of elderly

As part of World Elder Abuse Awareness Day, join in a discussion on ‘Protecting your rights’ with Ken Humphries from Senior Rights Victoria on Wednesday, June 15.

World Elder Abuse Awareness Day provides an opportunity for the community to become informed about elder abuse and for seniors to learn how to continue to live with dignity and respect.

The United Nations designed this day to voice opposition to the abuse inflicted on older people, most commonly by their families.

Learn how you can protect your own rights and also how you can assist others in the community to prevent elder abuse.

The forum will provide information about where to go for assistance and support when it occurs.

Elder abuse can often be a taboo topic.

By taking responsibility of becoming informed and raising awareness among neighbours and friends, you can be part of the solution.

Let’s make the Wodonga community free of elder abuse.

Wodonga’s water tower will also be lit up with purple during the week from June 12 to 18, the official colour representing World Elder Abuse Awareness Day.

The forum is at Wodonga Senior Citizens’ Centre from 2.30pm to 3.30pm (followed by afternoon tea). RSVP online at elderabuseawareness-forum.eventbrite.com.au or phone Wodonga Council on (02) 6022 9207.

Rain reveals art

Rainy days are now something to look forward to in Wodonga with the installation of artworks that appear only when wet.

A group of young local artists has created about 30 stencils applied with a silicon spray on pavements around the central business area.

The artworks form a trail from Arts Space Wodonga entrance to Junction Square.
Where can I get firewood for my heater at home?

The best place to get firewood for home heaters is to buy it from a retailer as it is generally prohibited to collect wood from council roadsides, as this provides habitat for wildlife. When buying from a retailer, residents should ensure the firewood is proper split logs, not old rail sleepers (usually recognisable with sawn edges) as these are contaminated with herbicides and lead that create toxic fumes when burned. Winter is also a good time to change the battery in your smoke alarm and get your gas heater serviced.

Can I get my rates notice sent electronically?

Yes – register for email notices at wodonga.vic.gov.au/roads-rates-rubbish/rates/register-email/ or phone (02) 6022 9300. Or you can signup for BPAY View through your personal bank and have your rates sent and stored in the same online bank that you use to pay them. Email and BPAY View delivery means you get your bills promptly and reduces the need for paper.

How can I keep my dog safe during storms?

Remember to secure your fences and gates so your dog doesn’t get out during windy weather and storms. If your dog digs holes, fill them in promptly so your loved one can’t escape. Remember to always walk your dog on a lead to keep them and the community safe, and keep your details up-to-date so if they run away or escape, they can be reunited with you.

Will I get more kitchen caddy liners?

Yes – a new roll of kitchen caddy liners will be delivered to Wodonga residents this month - a year after the green-lidded organics bin was introduced (slightly later than Albury residents who got a new roll in April - one year after it was introduced there). For tips on making the most of your three-bin system including what can go in the organics bin, visit halwaste.com.au

Volunteers representing the breadth and depth of Wodonga were applauded for their outstanding contribution to the community at the inaugural Wodonga Volunteer of the Year Awards held recently during National Volunteer Week.

Wodonga Mayor Cr Anna Speedie said the awards were not just about picking the best volunteer, but about recognising all volunteers and the power of work they do actively supporting vital services and programs.

“For the first time we ran the Wodonga Volunteer of the Year Awards and I’d like to congratulate every individual and group that was nominated. Volunteers truly do make the world go round,” Cr Speedie said.

The overall Wodonga Individual Volunteer of the Year Award went to Sarah Negrin for her contribution as the Chairperson of headspace Albury Wodonga Reference Committee and for her role at WayOut – Wodonga’s Youth Action Group. Sarah volunteers across Wodonga in a number of organisations including Wodonga Dog Rescue, Anxiety Support Group, Alphabet Crew and Speak Up Toastmasters.

The 2016 Wodonga Volunteer Team of the Year Award went to Wodonga Storm Junior Rugby League’s Sal Kaiwai and Ryan Dodd (pictured). This powerhouse couple were nominated for their commitment and passion for developing not just rugby skills, but creating respectful, disciplined sportsmen and women. They encourage boys and girls of all abilities and are great role models for clubs, parents and teams.

The awards were announced during the Volunteer Fair at The Cube Wodonga.

Program a push start for our young musos

Do you enjoy live music? Then come along to the FreeZA competition on Friday, June 10, from 6pm till late at The Cube Wodonga.

The competition will feature young local musicians from all genres including soloists, duos and groups. It is an all-ages, drug and alcohol-free event – with tickets $5 (at the door only).

And if you would like to help organise the next FreeZA competition or any of Wodonga’s youth events, why not join the committee?

If you’ve ever wondered what happens behind the scenes of an event or would like to learn new skills, share your ideas and see them become reality - now is your chance! The only requirement is that you live, work or study in Wodonga and are aged 14 to 24.

Meetings are each Monday from 4pm to 5pm. You will be mentored, receive training and have the opportunity to travel to Melbourne to meet other young people who form the FreeZA committees around the state.

Members of the current committee have found the experience to be hugely rewarding.

“You get to learn all about events but if there is something specific that you’re interested in – whether it’s to liaise with bands or to manage the budget – you get to pick your role and can focus on that,” Sophie Gleeson said.

If you want to know more, get in touch with Youth Events Officer, Sam Lampe at slampe@wodonga.vic.gov.au or via phone (02) 6022 9232.

Thanks to YES Optus Wodonga, the major sponsor for the FreeZA Push Start competition.

Open galleries add colour outdoors

Winter is now a little bit more colourful with a series of brilliantly coloured images on display on the outside of the Wodonga Library wall, facing The Cube Wodonga Courtyard.

As part of Wodonga’s dynamic public art program, ‘Open Galleries’ provides three light boxes for local artists to exhibit their art. Local 16-year-old artist Suzy Plummer is the first to exhibit her art, and drew the stunning digital images using her passion for colour.

“I get inspired by other artists,” said Suzy, who did two of the three artworks as part of Wodonga Library’s Manga Anime club.

“The first artwork (the girl in the purple dress with the bubble) was difficult – I didn’t like drowning.

“The third one, the boy, has an androgynous character) didn’t like drowning.

“The second girl (or boy – it’s easier,” she said.

“The story I’m telling in the bubble) was difficult – I couldn’t finish the whole thing on my own little computer so had to move it to my mum’s computer. The second and third were easier,” she said.

“The story I’m telling in the artworks is the first girl is happy in her bubble.

Well on our way to halving waste by 2020

Albury-Wodonga residents have embraced the new three-bin system and reduced waste by 33 per cent since it was introduced just a year ago. More than 80 per cent of waste has been diverted away from landfill in the past 12 months, so the region is well on its way to achieving the goal of halving waste by 2020.

Some tips to make the most of your three bins:

- Reduce odour in your green-lidded bin by lining the bottom with newspapers, or place a layer of garden waste over food waste.
- Make more room in your yellow-lidded bin by squashing containers and flattening cardboard.
- Free up space in your red-lidded bin by checking if you can recycle some plastics instead. Some hard plastics even without a recycling symbol can be recycled – use the scrunch test ... if it holds its shape, it can be recycled (if it’s soft and you can scrunch it in your hand, it should stay in the red-lidded bin).
- You can also upsieze any of your bins (charges apply for yellow and red-lidded bins).

With the red-lidded garbage bins being collected fortnightly instead of weekly, here are some tips for dealing with disposable nappies.

- Seal nappies tightly in plastic bags (use two bags or scented bags) before placing in the garbage bin.
- Store the garbage bin in the shade and out of direct sunlight if possible.
- Consider using general odour-neutralising products in your bin, including cat litter, crystals or bicarbonate of soda.

Halve Waste have a range of fact sheets available or ask for a home visit for more tips on maximising your bins.

Centres have bin for batteries

There are now five new recycling collection points around Wodonga where you can dispose of batteries (both household and computer), mobile phones (including cords and chargers), light globes, and used ink cartridges - for free.

These recycling bins are at:
- Council offices – 104 Hovell St, Wodonga;
- Belgrade Avenue Community Centre (batteries only);
- Felltimber Community Centre (phones, light globes and batteries);
- Baranduda Community Centre (phones, light globes and batteries); and,
- Wodonga Library – 126 Hovell St, Wodonga (batteries only).
