ALBURY WODONGA HAS ALWAYS BEEN A MEETING PLACE OF TWO CITIES, AND TWO STATES, ACROSS THE MIGHTY MURRAY RIVER. TODAY THAT PROUD HISTORIC DUALITY HAS MADE IT A SPECIAL PLACE WITH HERITAGE CHARM AND MODERN SOPHISTICATION IN EQUAL MEASURE.
WELCOME

AlburyWodonga has always been a meeting place of two cities, and two states, across the mighty Murray River. Today that proud historic duality has made it a special place with heritage charm and modern sophistication in equal measure.

Here you can cycle along the Murray River, wander through a local farmers market or explore Australia's newest cultural landmark, MAMA, the Murray Art Museum Albury. Swim at Lake Hume in the morning, visit the Bonegilla Migrant Experience in the afternoon then treat yourself at one of the region’s acclaimed restaurants at night.

It’s all here and ready to be experienced, side by side.

AlburyWodonga is a place of wonderful contrasts - where the great outdoors meets the latest in urban culture, and where visitors can easily discover the best of both worlds.

You’ll find AlburyWodonga easily accessible, with unexpected discoveries around every corner. Use this Guide to plan your visit and make the most of this diverse part of Australia. The hardest thing will be deciding what to do next!
A French connection

In 1917, soldiers of the Albury Battery, part of the 5th Brigade, helped capture Noreuil, a French village in the Pas-de-Calais region, from the German Army. In 1919, Albury Mayor Alf Waugh convinced the council to name a new riverside park and swimming area after Noreuil as a lasting tribute to the soldiers.

FLOAT AWAY

In summer, you’ll notice locals enjoying a river float. As they say, if you can’t beat them, join them! Grab a tube, jump in and let the river take you somewhere new!

DON’T MISS:

Noreuil Park is also home to the newly rebuilt The River Deck. There’s simply no other café so close to the river in AlburyWodonga! From your seat under magnificent elm and plane trees, you can watch the water flow by as you enjoy a coffee, cold drink, ice cream or a freshly prepared delicious meal. We recommend making a booking for large groups for lunch or dinner. Get in touch with Alex Smit, The River Deck’s proprietor, for other special events such as champagne masterclasses and local wine tastings. If you’re looking to grab and go, you can pick up a coffee or ice cream from the takeaway windows.

Flowing between the twin cities of Albury and Wodonga is the mighty Murray River – a unique natural playground that’s enjoyed all year round.

At Noreuil Park you’ll find places for swimming, kayaking, paddleboarding, bike riding and just relaxing on the riverbank. Join the locals who come out to play from early morning to dusk along the foreshore, especially in the warmer months. It’s the perfect place to unwind for picnic lunches and dinners as the sun sets over the water. Throw down a rug, play some afternoon cricket by the river or jump in for a quick swim before dinner.

With mature shade trees, picnic tables, and large expanses of grass there is plenty of space for everyone. This is one of the region’s favourite places to enjoy some quality time with family and friends in the fresh air.
If you’re looking for outdoor fun with little ones, there’s a popular playground near the The River Deck, and just a short stroll away is the wonderful Oddies Creek Playspace with lots of equipment including a flying fox.

For those who prefer to experience the river up close in kayaks or canoes, just contact the Canoe Guy from Murray River Canoe Hire, or Canoe the Murray. They’ll meet you at the river with boats ready to hire for any sized group. There are half-day, full-day and multi-day options to choose from. It’s just another way to spend more time on the Murray.

Next to The River Deck is the Mitta Mitta Canoe Club with a proud history of producing many champions and Australian representatives over the years. You’ll see lots of kayaks and touring groups accessing the river from Noreuil Park.

ODDIES CREEK PLAYSPACE IS HOME TO A 30-METRE FLYING FOX, MULTI-DIRECTIONAL SWING, CLIMBING NETS, SPRING ROCKERS, TREES AND SHRUBS THAT CREATE TUNNELS AND A NATURAL CUBBY SPACE, AND EVEN A SMALL AMPHITHEATRE FOR CREATIVE PLAY. IT’S PERFECT FOR KIDS OF ALL AGES AND ABILITIES. THIS IS A FULLY FENCED AREA SURROUNDED BY GREEN OPEN SPACE WITH VIEWS ACROSS THE PARK TO THE MURRAY RIVER.

DON’T MISS:

To have more fun by the Murray, take the Wagirra Trail (6.5km track - one way) and the Yindyamarra Sculpture Trail either by bike or on foot as they wind along the river’s edge.
Albury Wodonga is a regional centre known for its rich cultural life. This is the home of the renowned Flying Fruit Fly Circus and performing arts spaces such as The Cube Wodonga, HotHouse Theatre and Albury Entertainment Centre. There are multiple art galleries to visit including Arts Space Wodonga, GIGS Gallery, LibraryMuseum and of course MAMA, the new Murray Art Museum Albury.

We think MAMA is the biggest news in the art world at the moment after it opened its doors in October 2015. MAMA re-imagines what an art museum can be. It’s more than a showcase for art – MAMA is an all-encompassing contemporary art experience that balances international touring exhibitions with deep connections to our surrounding regional area and cultural identity.

Every corner of MAMA is bold, vibrant and alive. Along with an emphasis on innovative, self-curated exhibitions, MAMA features a stunning 24-hour ‘art skin’, interactive workshops and immersive cultural experiences.

Make sure you pop by the art museum’s new restaurant and café, Canvas, take in the latest exhibition, and return to experience the ‘art skin’ come to life after hours.

Our local story

CROSSING PLACE TRACES THE SETTLEMENT OF ALBURY BY LAND AND WATER. THIS IS AN ENGAGING COLLECTION OF OBJECTS, AUDIO AND FILM THAT TELLS THE STORY OF ALBURY FROM FIRST CONTACT WITH THE WIRAJURI PEOPLE TO THE CITY WE KNOW TODAY. YOU’LL FIND IT ON PERMANENT DISPLAY AT ALBURY’S AWARD WINNING LIBRARYMUSEUM.

DON’T MISS:

If you prefer to explore local Indigenous art outdoors, take some time to visit the Yindyamarra Sculpture Trail. There are 11 art sites strategically located along the Murray River, and you can download the augmented reality app, APositive, which will help you get the most out of the tour with extra artist commentary. For real art buffs and collectors, make sure you visit Sam and Aaron, our local Indigenous gallerists and artists. You’ll find them at Central Desert Art Sales on Dean Street in Albury, and both are very happy to share their knowledge and help you select something special.
We like it hot!
There are not many regional performing arts spaces like HotHouse Theatre. Every year is a season to remember, drawing on commissioned works by national theatre companies alongside young local acts. This is an intimate theatre experience with full house capacity at 160 seats. Check online to see what’s playing right now at hothousetheatre.com.au

No flies on us
They’re our most famous export – the local Flying Fruit Fly Circus tours locally, nationally and internationally. This is the only full-time circus school for young people aged 8 to 18 in Australia. Its purpose built home is across the road from Noreuil Park on Hovell Street. Check The Cube Wodonga or Albury Entertainment Centre websites to see if they’re performing in town tonight!

Find the space
Arts Space Wodonga is a vibrant and accessible contemporary arts venue situated in the centre of Wodonga. It offers a dynamic program of unique exhibitions, intimate performances, workshops, recitals and forums, and features an inspiring range of local, regional and imported cultural works. Give a dam

Constructed over a 17-year period between 1919 and 1936, the Hume Dam is located approximately 15 minutes from town, with the small towns of Tallangatta, Bonegilla and Bellbridge along its shores. It’s estimated that Lake Hume holds approximately five times the volume of water in Sydney Harbour.

LAKE HUME

Lake Hume is a special place that locals love to visit when they want to head out of town. Only a 15-minute drive from the town centres, it doesn’t take long to find yourself at the lake and all it has to offer.

Lake Hume is perfect for boating, yachting, fishing, swimming, water-skiing, paddle boarding, and picnics, or just relaxing under a shady tree by the peaceful water. You can also learn to sail at Lake Hume Yacht Club. You don’t need your own boat, just enthusiasm for the sport as it is open to all skill levels. Programs run over three to five weeks. Visit awyc.yachting.org.au to find out more.

ON THE WATER

From Lake Hume Hire and Fishing Charters, you can hire a barbecue boat for a sunset cruise or enjoy an expert guided fishing tour.

The sandy beach areas are popular with swimmers and sunbathers, and reserves with barbecues and picnic facilities line the picturesque foreshore.
Anglers can throw a line in anywhere on Lake Hume, with Murray Cod, Redfin, Golden Perch and more nibbling all the way up into NSW waters beyond the heritage-listed steel trusses of Bethanga Bridge.

Get up-close to the Lake Hume dam wall from either the Hume Dam Wall Reserve to the north, or the Mitta Junction Picnic Reserve to the south. Both locations offer viewing platforms with spectacular views for photography and general sightseeing, as well as visitor facilities.

FANCY A PICNIC?

South of the impressive dam wall you’ll find scenic picnic spots such as Jackson Point and Kookaburra Point, both of which feature barbecues and gentle, sloped banks that are perfect for kids to cool off with a splash in the water. The local tradition is to enjoy an ice cream from the local milk bar on a hot afternoon.

DON’T MISS:

Hook, line & sinker

TOP THREE ACTIVE TRAILS

- Nail Can Hill
- McFarlanes Hill
- Wagirra Trail

TOP THREE LOOKOUTS

- Huon Hill
- Monument Hill
- East Albury Hill

Located an easy drive from the centre of Wodonga, McFarlanes Hill is an excellent place to escape the hustle and bustle. Experience the bush ambience by taking a stroll amongst rolling hillsides and remnant bushland. The view of Wodonga from the ridge is well worth the 4km walk along the Ridge Walking Track. For something more active, there are over 20km of mountain bike tracks to explore.

Just west of Albury are the magnificently restored Wonga Wetlands. Choose from three well-signposted trails through lagoons and billabongs. Birdwatchers will be in paradise with more than 150 identified species populating the area. Keen cyclists can ride from Albury along the scenic and all-weather bike path that follows the Yindyamarra Sculpture Trail to Wonga. Luckily it’s downhill on the way back into town!

The High Country Rail Trail follows the old railway line, built in 1887 and used to transport material for the Snowy Mountain Scheme. The last train headed out along this track in 1978. Take in the beautiful high country scenery as you pass Lake Hume, Bonegilla and several reserves with picnic facilities.
History is all around you in Albury Wodonga. Everything is set up to easily explore the fascinating Indigenous, pioneering, and immigration stories which helped shape this unique part of our country.

Accessible to cyclists and walkers of all skill levels, the Wagirra Trail features the Yindyamarra Sculpture Trail. This is a five kilometre section of the trail with 11 sculptures created by local Aboriginal artists, accompanied by interpretive panels. Download the videos via a smartphone app which tells the story of Aboriginal history and the cultural significance of the Murray River. At Wonga Wetlands, you’ll find a working campsite set out according to tradition, with areas for cooking, sleeping, tool making and rock art, as well as a ceremony/dancing circle.

Albury Wodonga also holds great significance for many of the 330,000 European immigrants who arrived in Australia after World War II as part of the government’s post-war migration scheme. Standing inside one of the living quarters at Block 19, Bonegilla Migrant Experience, you can almost hear the voices of those who began new lives in Australia. With restored housing and collections of memorabilia, it is now a peaceful and contemplative place to consider the incredible migrant journey, their personal stories and their amazing contribution to this country. It’s well worth spending an afternoon here.

The Albury Heritage Trail takes you back a hundred years or so into our social, political and economic past. Take a walk around the 18th and 19th century buildings on Dean Street between Kiewa and Olive Streets: the Post Office, Court House and Telegraph Office, the Colonial Mutual Life Building, the former Crown Lands Office (now Burrows House) and the old Farmers and Graziers Woolstore on Smollett Street. The full tour takes around an hour and a half and there’s a useful app (Albury Walking Tour) to help you get the most out of this walk through yesteryear.
Visitors to both cities don’t need to venture far to find bars, cafés or restaurants. A relaxed meal, an evening drink with friends and live music is an established part of Albury Wodonga’s nightlife.

If you like exploring local food scenes, you’ll love the range of wine bars, pubs and tapas venues serving up a top mix of local fare. Head to Beer DeLuxe (sister brand to the one in Fed Square, Melbourne), Zed Bar or Bended Elbow for a relaxed beer or drink before dinner. Try Union Lane for craft beers and delicious food, and Soho across the street for tapas and cocktails.

Culture buffs will appreciate the array of traditional and contemporary theatre performances, cabaret and comedy shows, or the vibe of a jazz, blues or acoustic set at one of the many theatres, clubs and pubs. Head to the SS&A Studio for live gigs, or the Jazz Basement for high quality jazz performances.

For a more casual night out, check out the heritage-listed Regent Cinema on Dean Street which screens the latest releases and art-house films. Afterwards, indulge in an ice cream around the corner at Monumental Ice Creamery, or head to Soho or The Bended Elbow for a glass of wine and eats at the bar.
Our compact cities offer amazing variety. Best of all, you’ll find just about everything within easy walking distance from the main streets, with hidden treasures ready to discover around every corner.

If you are looking for a genuine find, seek out Books on Dean for a curated range of vintage and collectible books on more topics than you can imagine, including a number of rare first editions. Recipe book fans should head to The Essential Ingredient for the latest must-have cookbooks, kitchenware and great advice from Brad and Erin Hatfield.

For something totally different, try Little Nest in Dean Street or Di Billiet in South Albury, a stockist of unique and innovative products from Australia and around the world, from traditional children’s toys to jewellery, designer homewares and clothing. The Bower Co. on Swift Street, Albury, is a treasure trove of curated objects for the home by Kenny and Bec Bower. Pour Mes Amis on High Street, Wodonga, is brimming with an eclectic and sophisticated range of clothing, home and lifestyle products, and VIVA (Virtues in Vintage and Antiques) is your curiosity shop on Stanley Street, Wodonga, for all antiques, vintage and collectables.

Art lovers – Enjoy Yackandandah
Yackandandah’s rich cultural heritage, stunning location and wealth of local arts and crafts make it a must-see for visitors, with talented artists and artisans from around the world putting their wares on display. If you have a sudden case of gold fever, pick up a map and a Miners Right from the tourist information centre and try your hand at panning for gold.

Wine hounds – Explore Rutherglen (1 hour round trip by car)
‘Rutherglen red’ has to be one of Australia’s best-known brands. First produced here in the 1850s, its winemakers are now famous the world over.

One of the best ways to ‘do the vineyards’ here is by bus. You’ll find a large range of bus tours on offer – just ask at the Rutherglen Wine Experience and Visitor Information Centre in Main Street. You can also cycle around the area on a relatively flat nine-kilometre sealed trail that winds past many famous wineries.

Heritage Fans – Head to Beechworth
The best way to take in the historic streetscapes of Beechworth is on foot. Book a Golden Ticket online or look in at the Visitor Information Centre for tours around Beechworth’s heritage buildings, such as the old telegraph station, town hall and powder magazine. If you visit the Court House on Main Street, you can stand in the dock where Ned Kelly stood before being transferred to Melbourne Gaol, where he was hanged in 1880.

Antique Lovers – Check out Chiltern
These days, Chiltern is synonymous with antiques, bric-a-brac and collectibles. You’ll find a mountain of old-world treasure to sift through in shops along Main Street and Conness Street. Time your visit to coincide with the Chiltern Antique Fair and you’ll be in heaven.

The town is also notable for its extremely well-preserved historical streetscapes. The gold rush brought a huge influx of miners and shopkeepers to Chiltern and they left a wealth of heritage behind them. The streets feature many original storefronts, a mid-1800s pharmacy with original shopfittings and equipment, and the Star Hotel and Theatre, once a popular leisure spot for miners.

Local Lovers – Go the pies! Rutherglen boasts one of the best award-winning pie shops in the region, Parkers Pies on Main Street. Using only locally sourced ingredients, it’s a destination all on its own.

Tasting notes
The region’s cool nights, warm days and long, dry autumns produce some world-famous fortified wines from Muscat and Tokay grapes. Rutherglen reds are world class too – try a Shiraz, Durif or Sparkling Shiraz and you’ll know why. For a one stop shop, head to Thousand Pound on Main Street, a new wine bar and store, developed by the local winery, All Saints Estate.

Don’t Miss:
For nature and history lovers, it’s worth stopping off at Woolshed Falls, only 5kms from Beechworth. Once the centre of the richest goldfields in Victoria, more than 8,000 gold miners or diggers lived along the banks of this small stream and its spectacular falls.
